School Notes and News.

We record with great regret the death, on May 8th, of the Very Rev. E. C. Maclure, D.D., Dean of Manchester, and chairman of the Board of Governors of the School. The late Dr. Maclure was an ex-officio member of the governing body from his installation as Dean in 1890, and was chairman from 1895 until his death. His work in connection with this School was only one of many similar public services, into all of which he threw a characteristic energy. Some of us will remember the sermon which he preached in the Cathedral to the Grammar and High Schools of the district on the occasion of Queen Victoria's death.

The Games Club has received generous donations of £10 from Mr. H. R. Goodwin, £5 from Mrs. H. R. Goodwin (in addition to those already acknowledged), and of £1. 1s. from

Mr. L. A. Bradbury (O.H.). The six new garden seats, which form a much-needed addition to the accommodation for visitors on the School field, are the outcome of Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin's kind gift.

We record with great sorrow the death of one of our number, Leonard Hessey, who was at School only three days before he died, after a very short illness, on July 13th. He was 14 years old, and entered the School in April, 1902. A wreath for his funeral was sent by the boys of the Lower Modern Fourth and his friends in Modern Third.

The following have recently taken degrees in the University of Manchester: D. Knoop, M.A.; W. H. Evans, M.Sc.; F. H. Lowe, M.Sc.; W. F. Oldham, B.Sc., with honours in Engineering.

The following have passed examinations in the same University: L. H. Cross, Intermediate Honours School of Architecture; O.

R. Allison, Intermediate B.Sc.; G. A. Evans, Part I. Honours Mathematics (Subjects 1 and 2); D. C. Foster, Part I. Honours Mathematics (Subjects 1, 2, 3).

Class prizes in the Sessional Examinations at Owens College have been obtained by the following: G. A. Evans, Applied Mathematics (Advanced Intermediate Hons.); J. Charnley, German Intermediate; L. Clarkson, German Final; S. R. Best, Pure Mathematics (Advanced Intermediate); E. P. Gabbott, Engineering Lab. (second year).

Entrance Scholarships at Manchester University: C. Campbell, Cartwright Scholarship, £35 per annum for three years, in mathematics; H. Dearnaley, Theodores Exhibition, £15, in modern languages.

Manchester Education Committee: P. F. Ward, Entrance Examination for Pupil Teachers; A. L. Powell and J. J. Wilkinson, Bursaries for Pupil Teacher Probationers of £15 for first year and £20 for second year, tenable at this School; H. S. Needham, Senior Secondary School Scholarship of £15 for two years, tenable at this school.

Walter H. Evans, M.Sc., has been appointed Assistant Examiner in the Patent Office, a position which is obtained by open competitive examination. He attended the School from 1894 till 1900, when he went to Owens College with a Lancashire County Scholarship of £60 for three years. In 1903 he obtained B.Sc. Hons., Manchester. He then did research work under Prof. Dixon on the relation between pressure and movement of flame in explosion of gases, and carried out independent researches in the Electro-Chemical Laboratory, Owens College, on the electrolytic preparation of titanous sulphate (Manchester Literary and Philosophical Society, 1904). During 1905-6 he was engaged as a technical chemist in London.

D. Knoop, M.A., who holds a Gartside Scholarship at the Manchester University, has just sailed for America, where he is to make a study of economic conditions in the chief centres. A paper by him in collaboration with Prof. Chapman on dealings in futures in the cotton market was read before the Royal Statistical Society in London in April last.

W. Hough, who has been in residence at Pembroke College, Cambridge, for two years, will go to Constantinople this autumn to take up his duties as student interpreter. Hough played in the chess match for Cambridge against Oxford.

E. Classen, B.A., Manchester, Lecturer in Modern Languages at the Municipal School of Technology, has been appointed Lecturer in English at the University of Upsala, Sweden.

Three Old Hulmeians, W. B. Smith, E. Youatt, and S. A. Smith are in partnership as solicitors, 2, Cooper Street, Manchester.

L. G. Jupp is now on a visit home after a 10 years' residence in the East. He was the first Old Boy to find his way east of Suez, and has been for some years manager to Messrs. S. Moutrie & Co., Tientsin, N. China. He volunteered in the Canton expedition of 1900, and was in Port Arthur after it was blockaded by the Japanese, escaping in a coal truck. He has many entertaining stories to tell of his experiences, of which one was a vain attempt to come home by the Siberian railway. He is returning to China in the autumn by America and Japan.

The June number of Manchester University Magazine contains a photograph of the Students' Representative Council, 1905-1906, upon which the following Old Hulmeians appear: T. T. Foster, D. Knoop, C. Lister, W. F. Oldham, and R. E. Pearson.

In the University Sports, T. T. Foster was second in the mile, third in the quarter mile, second in the half mile, and second in the 120 yards hurdle race. J. H. Walker was third in the Freshmen's 220 yards. Foster obtained a good place in the competition for the championship.

JULY, 1906

Four members of the Manchester University lacrosse team are Old Hulmeians: W. J. Dearden, T. T. Foster, F. C. Hudson, and J. H. Walker. A photograph of the team, which won the Junior Flags 1905-6, appeared in the May number of the University Magazine.

Swimming has been as popular as ever in the School this term. The 'bus has carried heavy loads twice a week, and a large number of boys have been under instruction. The races will be held on July 30th, and the life-saving competition next term.

The Midsummer Examination has been conducted by the following examiners appointed by the Board of Governors: Mr. Albert G. Latham, M.A., Lecturer in Modern Languages at the College of Science, Newcastle-on-Tyne, in classics, modern languages, and English; Mr. C. L. Barnes, M.A., in science and mathematics; and Mr. H. Foster Newey, Principal of the Technical School, Tunstall, in drawing and writing.

The School Prizes will be distributed on Speech Day by the Rev. F. W. Cooper, M.A., Rector of Prestwich, ex-officio Governor of the School, and the Sports Prizes by Mrs. T. F. Tout.

F. R. Cox has received a cricket ball for his performance of the "hat trick" for the First Eleven against Macclesfield Grammar School; and H. Dearnaley has received a pair of pads for his score of 58 not out for the First against the Hulme Lads' Club.

A First Eleven cricket cap has been awarded to E. W. Hewett.

Our thanks are due to the following contributors of School news: F. B. Turner, G. W. Fox, P. F. Ward, W. Cartledge, H. Stonehewer, E. K. Farrar, W. Dorrington, G. Leak, A. Bradbury, and H. Palmer; and to the cricket scorers, D. Cardwell, W. Butterworth, H. Radford, W. Pool, F. Robinson. We are also indebted to Mr. A. Eastwood for news of Old Hulmeians at Manchester University.

We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of the Whalley Range High School Magazine, Leodiensian, Pincerna, and Portmuthian.

Old Hulmeians can subscribe to the Hulmeian by sending one shilling annually to Mr. J. A. Barber or Mr. Hewlett at the School. The three numbers will be sent post free as they appear in December, April, and July.

Michaelmas Term will begin on Tuesday, September 18th, at nine o'clock, and the Entrance and Scholarship Examination for new boys on Monday, September 17th, at 9 o'clock.

Samuel Jones.

It is with the deepest regret that we record the death of Samuel Jones. He was born at Manchester on December 18th, 1882. He entered the School in April, 1896, and left in 1899. He won his football cap as a distinguished member of the victorious First Team of 1898-9, and in 1905 he gave to the School the handsome silver trophy known as the Samuel Jones Challenge Shield for the Form Competition in football. On January 2nd, 1904, he married Miss Lena Holt at Droitwich. On April 4th, 1906, he died at Ventnor, Isle of Wight, where he was staying for the benefit of his health.

MECHANICS' INSTITUTION AND TECHNICAL SCHOOL OLD BOYS' ASSOCIATION.

To the Editor of The Hulmeian.

Sir,—May I draw attention, through your columns, to the Manchester Mechanics' Institution and Technical School Old Boys' Association? Many parents of boys at the Hulme School attended one or both of the above schools, and, on behalf of the committee, I give them a cordial invitation to join the Association. Members pay an entrance fee of 1s. and an annual subscription of 2s. 6d. The committee arranges social gatherings, garden parties, dinners, and visits to places of interest. —Yours faithfully,

AUSTIN EASTWOOD,

Hon. Asst. Secretary.

Fairfield, Manchester, June 27th.

The School Museum.

The School Museum has, in the two terms of the present year, had many specimens added to its natural history collections. We are especially grateful to those boys who have taken a keen interest in this work, and we hope that in course of no long time we shall have a first-rate Natural History Museum. The aim in view is to obtain typical specimens of the main divisions of the animal and vegetable kingdoms and of the larger geological periods, and in addition as complete a set as possible of the local flora and fauna, fossils, rocks, and minerals. Our thanks are due to the following boys for specimens presented by them: Rocks, minerals, ores, &c.: Bignold, F. G., Blamey, A. G. (pitchblende containing radium), Briggs, R. W. (diamond earth, &c., from S. Africa), Cooper, H. (gold in quartz, &c.), Hewitt, J. O., Pullynn, E. O., Sandiford, F. G. (curious steel turnings), Worlidge, O. G. Fossils: Cardwell, D., Thomson, N. G. Botanical specimens: Booth, V. E., Cardwell, D., Pullynn, E. O., Schliffer, H. A., Wearing, C. E. Shells: Bignold, A. J., Bignold, F. G., Booth, V. E., Briggs, R. W., Cardwell, D., Cooper, H., Dent, P., Foxwell, L., Higginbotham, H., Hudson, D. R., Hurst, J. H., Neill, G. W., Pullynn, E. O., Thomson, N. G., Wearing, C. E., Worlidge, O. G. Birds' eggs, &c.: Finlayson, T. C. (a very handsome gift of over 50 eggs), Bignold, F. G., Brierley, T. (nest), Cooper, H., Hurst, J. H. (skull), Travis, C. H., and Woods, W. D. Also to Worlidge, O. G., for shark's tooth and beetles; Sterne, E. L., for full set of ox teeth; Fletcher, N., for dragon flies, &c.; and for work done in the Museum we are more especially grateful to Botham, C. G., for his work on the insects; to Pearson, G. W., for his past work in the botanical section and for rearranging the geological specimens; and to Woods, W. D., for naming and arranging the birds' eggs.

Impressions of My First Camp.

There was something naturally strange and strangely unnatural in the surroundings of camp when we were awakened by the bugle band at 5 a.m. on the first morning after our arrival at Salisbury Plain. Sleepily we got dressed, had a cup of coffee, and then each company started out for a two mile run into the country, alternately running and walking.

This we called "the dirty parade," as we just turned out in shirt sleeves. On our return to camp we washed, then peeled potatoes, and breakfasted at 6-30 a.m. We then prepared our accoutrements, cleaned our rifles, swept the tents, and neatly folded our blankets for the kit inspection. At 8 a.m. we marched off for parade and manœuvres. Some days we would fight one half of the battalion against the other, or else the battalion against another. We fought with much more zeal if pitted against another battalion, as that was a trial of smartness, whilst in the company fights men fired few rounds, to save the trouble of cleaning their rifles. We generally returned to camp at 2 p.m., quite ready for dinner. The afternoons were left at our own disposal, and we bathed, wrote home, or played cricket and football. At 5 p.m. we had tea, and then went for walks to the neighbouring villages. At 9-30 p.m. the bugle sounded the "half hour," and we prepared our tents and beds for the night. At 10 p.m. "lights out" was sounded, and soon there was complete silence, except for some musical sleepers. Bugle calls were sounded the whole day long, but the one we liked most was "Come to the cook house, boys." We each took our turn at being orderly, who would have to fetch the food for all the members of his tent and clean the plates and dishes after meals.

There were over 30 Old Hulmeians in camp, the majority of whom are in I Company, this being the recognised Old Boys' Company. Not many years ago the Brigadier of the Manchester Regiment was Captain of this Company. Among the many privileges we enjoy is the use of a hut at Diggle when we go shooting, other Companies having to crowd into the canteen. I only hope that I shall always enjoy my holidays as much as I have enjoyed this my first camp, and that we shall see many more Old Boys joining "I" during the year.

M. OBERDORFER,

"I" Company, 2nd V.B.M.R.

To Pickmere.

On the Thursday before Good Friday, at nine o'clock in the morning, some members of the Junior Society assembled in front of Chorlton Station, each armed with a packet of sandwiches and a bicycle, for a ride to Pickmere. The last arrival brought our number up to thirteen, whereat the superstitious croaked. But bright sunshine and a good breakfast are powerful antidotes to superstition, and the thirteenth was not sent back again.

Nothing notable happened on the way to Altrincham, though three members availed themselves of the recent passage of water-carts to practise side-slipping. In Altrincham a sharp turn to the right and our first serious climb brought us to S. Margaret's Church, in front of which we found some seats, and rested for a few minutes. But the shock to our natural shyness of a proposal to photograph us hastened our departure, and we soon shook off the houses which had so far beset us and rode out into the open country.

A sharp look-out was now kept for wild animals and birds of prey, but nothing was sighted more terrible than the whiskered face of a hare. In the corner of one field we had a close view of a cock pheasant, with its gorgeous blue collar and plumage of metallic green and yellow. Its mate we also saw a little further on, dressed humbly in brown homespun.

At the top of Bucklow Hill we turned off to the left to visit Rostherne. Here we made a long halt, and the post-office authorities did a large trade in oranges and milk. Exactly opposite the post-office is Rostherne churchyard, which we entered by the quaint turnstile, closed automatically by a wooden weight. From behind the church we had a beautiful view of Rostherne Mere, a noble but desolate piece of water, fully equal to providing a splendid racing-course for row boats or a tacking ground for yachts.

After effecting sundry repairs, we resumed our journey, and everything went well until within about two miles of Pickmere. Then we all had different theories about the road, and got separated. Before we reached the Mere many strange things happened. One member is reported to have taken his machine to pieces and put it together again five times. The writer's own ideas are rather misty. He only remembers cart tracks and meadows, hoisting bicycles over ditches and thorn hedges, the last fence, and the shining levels of the lake.

Some of us went on the water, but a thunderstorm brought that part of the programme to an untimely end, and three adventurous mariners who had launched far out into the deep were caught in it.

This interruption did not prevent us from studying the flora and fauna of the lake. Our arrival startled a fine swan, which got up and flew away to the south, stretching out its long neck in a horizontal line. The southern bank of the Mere was comparatively bare of vegetation, but on the north a thick screen of tall reeds offered an attractive retreat for wild life. The crews of two boats which ventured to explore this region brought word of three strange creatures about the size of monkeys, which they observed chattering in the boughs of a tree on shore. Their hair was reported as a greyish brown, with a mottled-white band round the neck, but no specimen having been caught it is impossible to be sure of the exact species.

Soon after the rain was over we started for home, doing the return journey in just over two hours. In some of the ploughed fields scores of peewits were foraging for worms, and on one occasion a bird just beyond the hedge turned a complete summersault in the air, giving a good view of its light breast and black and white tail.

Birds and their Ways.

JUNIOR ORNITHOLOGISTS' REPORT.

We have a varied and interesting record of birds to report on this year. Several observations are carried over from last autumn. On September 29th G. M. van der Veen saw a jackdaw in the fields. It was eating a bone, but flew away on his approach; and the following day, when returning from a ride, he noticed a magpie, a bird distinguished by its black and white wings and body. Much nearer home, on April 13th last, the same observer noticed a pair of magpies enter some nests in Houghend Clough. Probably this explains why the rooks have only built this year on the station side of the Clough, for in previous years they have occupied both sides. The fact is the grandmotherly fondness of magpies for sucking eggs makes them rather unwelcome neighbours.

An account of bird warfare is here extracted from the same notebook. The date is just a week later, on April 20th. "When returning from School through the Park I heard a shrill scream from a waterhen. This sound was from the island, and it was immediately answered by one from the shore. In a minute or two, two waterhens appeared from the bank and three from the island. They met in the middle of the lake, and after more loud cries two started fighting, another acted as umpire, and the hens were the spectators. Their method of fighting was as follows. They would rush at each other, and standing up in the water, would strike out fiercely with their claws and beaks. They would then draw away again and circle round each other, looking for a favourable opening. After this had gone on for about three minutes, the hens, first one and then the other, rushed in and endeavoured to separate the combatants. At the end of about five minutes both fighters seemed to have had enough. They appeared to be exhausted, and swam with their heads almost touching the water, and after a bit both returned their different ways."

Another description of a fashionable thrush at late dinner runs thus: "At Easter, when sitting in a window one evening away at Rothesay, Isle of Bute, I noticed a thrush taking something in its beak and repeatedly dashing it against a large stone. After some time it apparently swallowed something, and then flew away. On going up I found that it had been cracking and eating a periwinkle. The bird always dashed the shell on the same stone, which was larger than any other near. The periwinkle had been completely scooped out, and the shell was badly smashed."

Many sea birds were, of course, seen. "I noticed a large number of black-headed gulls and common gulls. The black-headed gulls were more slightly built and smaller than the others. They had long, thin wings, pointed at the end, and a black patch on the crown of their heads. They always seemed to be gazing down at the sea, even when flying at a considerable distance above it. When on the lookout for food they fly very close to the water, and when they see a fish they throw back their wings, spread out their tails, put their feet out forward, and generally catch their prey. A morsel of bread, meat, or cake thrown to them is scarcely ever missed, however small. I noticed a common seagull which had only one leg, but it did not seem to make much difference to it, except that when flying it held its remaining leg straight out, while most gulls have them pressed against their chests."

Two wild ducks were also seen by G. M. van der Veen on Loch Lomond. On the approach of the steamer they flew rapidly away, their heads straight out and their wings flapping very fast. Four wild swans, too, were startled, and flew off very quickly a couple of feet above the surface of the water.

Hérons sometimes reach an immense height. At Llangunida, in Glamorgan, C. J. Stone saw a large heron flying at about a thousand feet up, and rapidly ascending, until at last it became invisible.

Returning to local birds, we have a record of a kestrel seen by a cycling party near Northenden, hovering over a field in search of its evening meal.

Abnormal flowers are frequently noticed in the society's reports. Abnormalities in bird-land are not so common. On May 7th a white sparrow was seen in Alexandra Park, and a white bird, evidently the same one, was seen on the School field at 5-30 the same day.

Botanical Notes.

REPORT OF BOTANIST, UNION SOCIETY, JUNIOR BRANCH.

During the past six months some very interesting botanical notes have been taken. In December's magazine there were many notes on abnormal buttercups and primroses, but still more have been taken between that time and this. During a ride to Pickmere at Easter two hawthorn bushes loaded with last year's fruit were noticed, and a sprig of holly representing two years' growth has been found. The older berries are, of course, red, while this year's are green and yet full grown. G. C. M. Jones found a creeping buttercup, double stemmed, but with two distinct heads, each having seven petals. There were 13 sepals, three between the flowers. A daffodil with eight petals instead of six was found by the botanist on March 17th last, and a double-stemmed narcissus, dividing an inch and a half below the flower into two distinct heads, one head having six petals, the other five. A white devil's-bit was discovered on the banks of the River Mersey on July 7th by A. H. Goodger. Pale-coloured flowers are sometimes found, especially in red and blue varieties, but this is due to an excess of moisture and not enough sunshine. Three red champions have been gathered almost white. Yarrow is sometimes found of a deep pink colour, or dead white with all the shades between.

On April 15th, 1906, a party from the Junior Union Society met at Alexandra Park Station and went on a botanical expedition. We first took the road to Northenden and Gib Lane, where a few interesting specimens of different flowers were found, such as dog's mercury, moschatel, golden saxifrage, butterbur, and ground ivy. We stopped to eat our sandwiches on a grassy mound at Castle Mill, and from there cut across country to the west, till we unexpectedly found ourselves riding into Knutsford. The object of the Society in taking these rides is to enable boys who are interested in Nature to tell plants in their natural haunts, though not in flower, for some plants may be known to many people when in flower, though only to a few when not. We returned by the Bowdon road, but branched off to Rostherne Mere, where a few other specimens were collected and preserved.

CRICKET NOTES.

We commenced the Cricket Season in a somewhat humble frame of mind. With only five members remaining from last year's first and second elevens, it was felt that we should find it rather difficult to approach the standard of the previous season. We are very apt, however, to forget that our opponents have the same experience. The spell of fine weather with which we were favoured before Easter allowed us to begin practice earlier than usual, and the arrival of a gaily-painted motor mower was very inspiring. Turner and Dearnaley, the only representatives of last season's first eleven, were elected captain and vice-captain respectively, and Ward was appointed captain of the second team.

Nine first eleven matches were arranged to take place before Whitsuntide, but owing to bad weather five of them had to be abandoned. Up to the time of writing eight matches have been won by the first team, and one lost, whilst no fewer than five have been drawn. Of the latter, one was abandoned owing to rain after the Hulme School, Oldham, had made 70, and another, against Mr. S. Harrison's team, ended in favour of our opponents.

In each of the remaining three matches, however, we had a distinct advantage, which ought in each case to have been pressed home. Macclesfield Grammar School just managed to escape defeat, their score being 48 for eight, after the School had made 137 for seven. Both the matches against St. Bede's, our greatest rivals, were very disappointing. In the first we declared after making 105 for five, but failed to get them out in time, their score being 46 for five, while in the return match they made 58 for eight in reply to our score of 95 for seven. Some blame rests on the early bats of the team for their inexcusable slowness in making runs. This lack of ability to force the game when necessary was one of the worst faults of the team.

We won both matches against Bowdon College, and both against the Salford Technical School, one of the latter providing much excitement, the scores being 64 and 63. The matches against Bury Grammar School and the Hulme Lads' Club proved easy wins. There is some consolation in reflecting that our first defeat was inflicted by the Parents and not by a school team. On this occasion—which is always very enjoyable—our bowling was punished somewhat severely, and we were not able to withstand the attack of Mr. Watson and Wheeler, 82 being the most we could make in reply to the Parents' score of 144.

Our success has been achieved by the team as a whole, rather than by individual effort. It has also been very pleasing to notice the success of comparatively young boys on the team, and the consequent lack of "tail." On the whole, the fielding has been good, Cox and Turner having done some smart work in this respect. The bowling has met with a fair amount of success, Cox and Hewett (who was awarded his cap in the middle of the season) having been responsible for most of the wickets.

The Second Eleven has played 13, won 7, lost 3, and drawn 3. Apart from those who have been moved up to the First Eleven during the season (Dawson, Lea, and Powell), the chief batsmen are Bruce, J., Ward, Minshall, and Cartledge, while Wallers has been the most destructive bowler, and Bruce has generally shared the honours with him.

The Third Eleven has won 6, lost 2, and drawn 2 of the 10 matches played. H. Stone-hewer has captained the team, and has made one or two useful scores. C. H. Elliott has been most successful with the bat, and has an average of 22 for six innings. Roberts, T. H., and Bruce, J. P., have also batted well. In bowling, Bruce, J. P., has had most of the work, while Elliott, Jacques, and Farrar have captured a dozen or so each.

The Fourth Eleven has been captained by W. Dorrington, and has played 6 matches, won 2 and lost 4. In batting, Dorrington, Till, T. S., and Goodwin, J. H., have done well, and the bowling has been shared by Dorrington, Gregory, and Hargraves.

The Fifth Eleven has been captained by Leak, G., and has won 4 matches and lost 1.

The most successful team, so far as match results go, is undoubtedly the Under 14 First Eleven. They have played 14 matches, of which 12 have been won and 2 drawn. In most cases they have not merely won, but won with ease. The closest match was the first fixture against the South Manchester School, in which we made 14, but got them out for 7. We expected a hard fight in the return, which produced a very good match, with the result in our favour.

Bradbury, A., has made an excellent captain, showing good judgment and setting a good example of keenness. He has batted well, with an average of 15.2 for 12 innings, and has taken 10 wickets for 1.6. Most runs were made by Fletcher, N., who played two innings of over 50, and has an average of 27 for 8 innings. Other batting averages are: Shaw, H., 12.6, Chorlton, J. S., 11.7, Stone, W., 9.1, van der Veen, G. M., 8.7, Taylor, T., 7.8. Chorlton has bowled very well throughout, never failing to come off. He has taken 77 wickets, with an average of 1.82—a splendid record. Fletcher and Stone have also bowled well, the former taking 28 wickets for 74.

The Under 14 2nd has been captained by Palmer, H., and has won 3, lost 2, and drawn

2 of 7 matches played. An Under 14 3rd Eleven has played two matches against Fielden Demonstration School, both of which were lost. Their chief performance was defeating the Under 14 2nd.

C. S. Baker has been doing fine things for Warwickshire this season, and on July 7th covered himself with glory in a great innings of 144 against Surrey, almost succeeding with Lilley in saving the game for his side. He was batting for three hours and a half, and had already made 57 in the first innings. He has now an average of 45.4 in first-class cricket.

In local cricket A. G. Baker has been batting in his old style for Whalley Range, while Mr. Wicks, G. Buckland, and R. Buckland are also in good form. R. Sykes has joined the club and played for the First. H. R. Classen, H. Buckland, S. W. Saxelby, B. Muth, and C. S. Baker have also played. Below we give a few of the scores made for Whalley Range or Chorlton-cum-Hardy:—

Winning the toss, Salford went in to bat, and made 18 for the first wicket, but were all out for 33. Hewett took five wickets for 20 and Cox four for 13. We began badly with three wickets down for 10 runs, but when Cox joined Hewett the score rose steadily, until both were out at 32. Brewer and Lindley then hit off the runs. Score :—

vi. HULME SCHOOL, OLDHAM.

Saturday, May 5th. Away. Drawn. Oldham won the toss, and Hewett and Cox opened the attack. Cox soon obtained three wickets, and four were down for 14. After this, however, runs came freely, and in spite of bowling changes the score reached 63, when Hewett brought about a separation. They were all out for 70. After going on the second time Hewett took four wickets for no runs, his analysis for the innings being five for 13, while Cox took four for 25. Turner and Dearnaley opened our innings, but the rain, which had been falling all the time, now came on heavily, and the match was abandoned. Score:—

v. BOWDON COLLEGE.

Wednesday, May 9th. Away. Won. Again we had to field first. Thanks to good bowling by Cox, two wickets were down for 6, but the third fell at 31. Slow play followed, and the side were out for 45. The fielding was keen and good. Bowling: Cox six for 20, Dearnaley one for 0, Turner two for 15. Play was very slow at the opening of our innings, and of the first 13 overs 12 were maidens. Hewett was out fifth at 29 for a very steady 16. With

Simpson and Fox in partnership, runs came more freely, and Bowdon's total was passed. During the match we were kindly entertained at tea by the Headmaster of Bowdon College. Score:—

v. WARRINGTON GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

Saturday, May 12th. Home. Won. We won the toss for the first time this season, and put the Botelerians in to bat. Hewett bowled well, and they were dismissed for 35. The fielding was keen, and eight catches were made. Bowling: Hewett seven for 25, Cox two for 6, Turner one for 4. In view of their small total, our order was altered, and Cox and Simpson opened the innings. We lost six wickets for 28, but Turner and Hewett soon made the runs, and carried out their bats for 20 and 15 respectively. Score:—

v. MACCLESFIELD GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

Wednesday, May 16th. Home. Drawn. We won the toss, and decided to bat first. Dearnaley and Turner opened our innings. With the score at 7, Dearnaley had hard lines in being bowled off his pads. Runs now came freely, and we made 130 for seven, when we declared. Hewett 32, Cox 23 not out, and extras 35 were our chief scorers. With an hour and a quarter's batting, Macclesfield were naturally playing for a draw, and after 10 overs only one wicket was down for 9 runs. In the hope of getting wickets quickly, Hewett and Cox changed ends to give Cox the wind. He at once met with success, taking three wickets in consecutive balls. However, at close of play there were still two wickets to fall. Dearnaley bowled well against the wind, taking three wickets for 11 runs. Cox's "hat trick" cost 20 runs. Our fielding was not so good as usual. Two or three catches were missed, which might have given us a victory. This to some extent may be excused by the cold wind and slippery ball. After the match the teams were kindly entertained at tea by the Headmaster. Score:—

v. SALFORD TECHNICAL SCHOOL.

Wednesday, June 13th. Home. Won. They put us in to bat, and a good start was made. Turner and Dearnaley put on 40 for the first wicket, both playing well for 15 and 23 respectively. From this point wickets fell rapidly.

JULY, 1906

The Salford captain took nine wickets for very few runs, and we were all out for 64. Salford began well, and made 41 for two wickets, 30 of which were contributed by their captain. Then we got the upper hand, and six men were out for 42. A threatening stand was made for the seventh wicket, which, however, fell at 55. Salford were 63, or one run behind, with two wickets to fall, but Hewett and Dearnaley rose to the occasion, and each took a wicket without further score. Thus we won by the narrowest of margins. Hewett took seven wickets for 29, 11 of which were scored in his first over. Our fielding was rather poor, and one or two chances were missed. Score:—

v. Mr. S. D. HARRISON'S XI.

Saturday, June 16th. Home. Drawn. They won the toss, and decided to bat first. Hewett and Cox opened the attack. Two wickets fell for 6 runs, but with Harrison in our bowling was hit all over the field and sometimes out of it. The score was taken to 74 before the third wicket fell. Harrison was fourth out, having made 65 out of 99. They declared with the score at 105 for six. Mr. Smith took one wicket for four, and Cox two wickets for 24. After losing two wickets for 11, we set to work to play out time. The next wicket took half an hour to raise the score to 36, when Turner was given out lbw. In the next over Mr. Smith was bowled, having played well for 17. The next two wickets fell with the score still at 36. When Simpson joined Hewett runs came fairly freely, and at call of time Simpson had made 23 and Hewett 17. Score:—

Wednesday, June 20th. Away. Drawn. We won the toss, and decided to bat first. Dearnaley and Turner opened our innings. Runs came very slowly, and the first wicket fell with the score at 16. The play now livened up a little, and we were 105 for five when we declared. Hewett 20, Fox not out 23, and Botham not out 22 were our chief scorers. St. Bede's set to work to play out time, and although several bowling changes were tried, only five of their batsmen were dismissed for 46 before the close of play. Hewett taking four wickets for 10 and Cox five for 13. Our fielding was good throughout. Dearnaley and Turner opened our innings, and their score was quickly passed, but at 35 Turner was bowled in attempting a big hit. Hewett and Dearnaley continued to hit freely, and the score was taken to 92 before Hewett was bowled for 26. v. THE PARENTS.

Saturday, June 30th. Home. Lost. Mr. Watson and Wheeler opened their innings to the bowling of Hewett and Cox. Runs came freely till Wheeler returned the ball to Hewett. Mr. Watson and Mr. Palmer then carried the score to 35, when Mr. Watson was caught for a well-played 30. Six wickets were down for 62. Mr. Cartwright then joined Mr. Eccles. They soon made the School bowling look very poor. Mr. Cartwright hit 23 in two overs, but at last Hewett clean bowled him for an excellent 34. Seven wickets were now down for 90. Mr. Eccles continued to score with Mr. Bruce until Turner bowled him for a well-played 24. Mr. Bruce soon followed him, having scored the same number of runs. The next five batsmen all fell to Dearnaley's bowling, and the innings closed for 144. Dearnaley and Hewett opened our innings, but we soon met with a disaster, Hewett being lbw to Mr. Watson. Three more wickets fell with the score at four. Turner and Simpson then placed us in a better position, until Turner was bowled with the score at 30 for five. Simpson and Fox carried the score to 42, when Simpson was caught for a well-played 21. The next two wickets fell at 51, but Cox and Dawson carried the score to 82, when Cox was caught. Dawson soon followed him, and a very enjoyable game was brought to an end with the score at 82. Score:—

v. ST. BEDE'S COLLEGE.

Saturday, July 7th. Home. Drawn. St. Bede's put us in, and we made a slow start. The first wicket fell at 4, but Hewett and Turner enlivened the game and carried the score to 56, when Hewett was caught at the wicket for 18. With Simpson in, the score was taken to 87, when Turner unfortunately ran himself out, having scored 46 in excellent style. Wickets now fell fast, and we declared at 95 for seven. With a little over an hour to play, St. Bede's set to work to save the game. Six men were out for 37, and two more before the game ended with their score 58 for eight. Wednesday, July 11th. Away. Won. Bury won the toss, and went in to bat. Hewett took three wickets in his first two overs, but runs then came at a great pace, chiefly from one batsman, who made 58 out of their total of 94. The bowling was frequently changed, but no one was able to keep a good length for long. Hewett took five for 24, and Cox three for 29. Turner and Dearnaley began well, and runs came freely, but at 33 the captain was given out lbw for 19. Another good stand followed, and 64 was up before Dearnaley was caught for 26. Their total was soon passed, and when stumps were drawn we were 121 for four, made in a little over an hour and a quarter. Hewett was top scorer with 37. Score:—
